

ARMY AVIATOR FALLS FIVE MILES AND LIVES

Major Schroeder Loses Consciousness At New High Altitude of 36,020, But Recovers in Time To Right His Plane

ESTABLISHES A WORLD RECORD

Thousands of Spectators Witness The Tense "Drama of The Sky" Occasioned by an Inadequate Supply of Oxygen

Dayton, O., Feb. 27.—An airplane carrying Major R. W. Schroeder, chief test pilot at McCook field, today fell over five miles on reaching an altitude of 36,020 feet, said to be 5,020 feet higher than the world's record.

Tonight the Major is in a hospital suffering from shock and temporary partial blindness. While still 2,000 feet above the ground, the airplane pitched itself and glided to a graceful landing. When the plane settled, attendants who rushed toward it found Major Schroeder sitting erect in the machine apparently lifeless. For a brief time residents of Dayton were sure a comet had appeared in the sky. They had mistaken the trail of vapor escaping from the machine as it sped downward "for a stranger in the heavens."

Thousands of persons gazed skyward watching the plane which had ascended two hours before the plunge downward. Major Schroeder lost consciousness when his machine had reached a height recorded by instruments as 36,020, or 5,020 feet higher than the world's record established by Rolland Ralph last summer.

His senses numbed and his eyes frozen shut in a temperature said to have been 67 degrees below zero, Schroeder regained partial consciousness when 2,000 feet above the earth in time to right his machine and prevent it from crashing to the ground, out of control.

The thousands of spectators were aware at the time that they were witnessing a "drama of the sky." They saw a speck of black silhouetted against the blue to which was attached a "tail" of grayish color. Gradually the object was enlarged as it hurtled to the earth. When but a few thousand feet above them, those watching saw that it was an airplane turning in a tail spin. It was at that point that Major Schroeder regained control of his plane and headed it toward McCook field.

Collapses on Landing

He made a safe landing and collapsed. He was blinded and his limbs were numb despite his electrically heated suit. He was suffering from the effects of a lack of oxygen. When nearly seven miles above the earth his oxygen tank became exhausted and it was this which robbed him of consciousness and caused him to fall.

Mechanics and officers at McCook field lifted the officer from his plane and gave him first aid treatment, later enoving him to the post hospital where it was said his blindness would be only temporary.

The instruments on the machine recorded the best story of the experience of the aviator in his flight to beat the record of Rolland Ralph and ring first honors to the air forces of the United States army. The thermometer registered a temperature of 5 degrees below zero, centigrade, or 7 degrees below Fahrenheit. Altitude gages from the barograph readings indicate a height of 37,000 feet and then calibrated by Captain Harrison C. Flickinger, showed an official altitude of 36,000 feet, a new world's record and a variation of less than 500 feet.

Recovers Lost Laurels

The mark set by Major Schroeder gains him the record which Rolland Ralph won from him July 30, 1919, with an official altitude of 30,000 feet and later increased in a second flight to 31,000 feet. It also equals the record of Adjutant Casale, French pilot, who was credited with an unofficial record of 33,137 feet.

Leaving the field this morning, Major Schroeder battled for two hours and five minutes against changing air currents and in a bitter cold atmosphere until he reached an altitude of 36,000 feet.

Riding alone, almost seven miles above the earth in a polar climate and against a wind which blows at 100 miles an hour or more, Major Schroeder fought foot by foot to drive his plane higher.

Officers of the field say his machine had fallen into a tail spin as he recovered his consciousness and he had been able to right it after the descent of more than five miles.

Air Pressure Crushes Tanks

The sudden change in air pressure on less than three pounds at 36,000 feet to 14.7 pounds at sea level, crushed the gasoline tanks and caused them to collapse, besides jolting Major Schroeder to his senses.

The machine was equipped with a gas supercharger, a device composed of a gas turbine and centrifugal air compressor. The turbine derived its power from the red hot exhaust gases on the Liberty motors. The power imparted by the gas turbine is used to operate the centrifugal air compressor at about 22,000 revolutions per minute and the air so compressed is fed to the carburetor at the same pressure as the air at sea level. Thus the engine delivered 400 horse power even though at high altitude.

Major Schroeder was dressed heavily in his polar explorer's overalls. He literally was strapped with flexible electric heaters. His flying suit was lined with the fur of Chinese chamois dog and between the fur a motor lining flexible electrical heat is conducted by silk covered wires to the dippers of the engine, heating the entire suit.

In like manner his headgear, gloves and boots were heated. He wore oxygen mask of his own design.

At R. W. Schroeder tonight told the story of his fight against wind, blizzard and low clouds.

LYNN J. ARNOLD IS EDITOR OF A NEW WEEKLY MAGAZINE

Associated with him in the enterprise are his law partners, Messrs. Blanchard and Louis Snyder.

SEEKS MORE EVIDENCE IN CHURCH LITIGATION

Efforts to Close Case of John V. Dittmore vs. Christian Science Body Fails

Boston, Feb. 27.—Judge Crosby of the supreme court, after hearing arguments by counsel in the Christian Science church litigation today took under advisement a motion by counsel for the directors of the church that Frederic Dodge, a master in the suits be directed to hear further evidence before filing his report. The evidence which the directors wish to introduce is in connection with the suit of John V. Dittmore against the directors to compel them to recognize him as a member of their board.

John L. Bates, counsel for the directors, said that the directors had reserved important evidence which they had intended to present in the Dittmore case and that they had been taken by surprise when the master ruled that the issue involved in that case had been settled in the hearing of evidence in the suit of the trustees of the Christian Science Publishing society to prevent the directors from interfering with their meeting of the society.

Sherman L. Whipple, counsel for the trustees, and William G. Thompson, counsel for Dittmore, argued that sufficient evidence had been offered to justify the conclusion reached by the master on that they were entitled to have the master's report filed without further delay. Mr. Whipple presented an affidavit based in part on extracts from a draft from the master's report which had been sent to counsel for all parties. To this was attached a copy of the report which Mr. Whipple said, it was understood should not be published until it had been filed and was to be opened only for inspection by the court.

Expect Approval

Washington, Feb. 27.—While there has been no intimation as to President Wilson's views on the railroad bill administration officials generally expect he will approve it.

The measure was returned to the White House today from the department of justice which ruled that there was no constitutional objection to its admission to the statute books. It later was referred to Director General Hines for his opinion.

Mr. Hines has made a study of the measure since it first was taken up in conference between the house and the senate and has said that he regarded it as about the best legislation that could be obtained under all the circumstances. The President has before him requests of the railroad, brotherhoods, the Farmer National council, and the American Society of Equity that he veto the measure and also the requests of other farmer's organizations that he sign it and bring government control to an end.

OHIO FIGHT TO CENTER ON HARDING AND WOOD

Four Republican and Three Democrat Runners Are Listed for the Presidential Race

Columbus, O., Feb. 27.—Entries in Ohio's presidential preference primary closed today with four avowed republican candidates and three democrats in the race. All filed declarations with the secretary of state.

The republican candidates are United States Senator Warren C. Harding; Major General Leonard Wood; James R. Garfield and Louis A. Baird of Washington, D. C.

The democratic candidates are Governor James M. Cox, former Governor James F. Campbell and James O. Monroe of Chicago.

These lists, however, are expected to be narrowed down to two republicans, Harding and Wood, and one democrat, Governor Cox, before the time for printing the ballots arrives.

James R. Garfield is expected to withdraw, his candidacy being only a formality in order to give candidates for Wood delegates a chance to express their second choice. The same is true of James F. Campbell on the democratic ticket.

Beside the presidential candidates there will also be a republican preferential ballot for vice president. There are two candidates, William Grant Weaver of New York, and Edward Washington of Hammond, Indiana. Secretary of State Smith said "they names will go on the ballot."

Chief justice of the state is to hold April 20, and the fight between Senator Harding and General Wood, a fight to be decided by both direct and indirect election, is expected to be a close one.

ASSAULT BEDFORD MATRON

Bedford, Feb. 27.—M. M. Matthews, Bedford, recently reported in jail at the state reformatory here today, charged several persons with assault on his wife when she was assaulted by three men and a woman.

APPROVAL OF RR. BILL IS EXPECTED

Department of Justice Upholds Validity of Cummins-Esch Measure as Passed

GOES TO WHITE HOUSE

Executives of Country's Railways in Session in New York Voice Their Approval

New York, Feb. 27.—Approval of the railroad bill now before the President was expressed at a meeting here today of executives representing approximately 90 per cent of the country's railways, who discussed the provisions of the bill in connection with the resumption of private ownership on March 1. In a statement issued today the executives predict that the proposed legislation would be successful if "the credit of the carriers is made sufficient to enable them to perform their public duties."

According to the executives, the railroads are approximately five years behind in operating equipment and sufficient credit must be established first, it was stated, if the carriers are to begin the task of overcoming that deficit.

With the resumption of private control and under the provisions of the bill every agency connected with the operation of railways is on trial, the statement says. It continues:

"The legislation marks a new departure on the part of congress in its policies in respect to regulating the instrumentalities of interstate commerce. Whatever differences of opinion may exist as to the adequacy, the desirability or validity of some of the provisions, there must be universal recognition of the high and patriotic purpose of those in congress chiefly responsible for the legislation."

"They are undoubtedly controlled by an earnest desire to create a constructive and workable method of regulation under which the instrumentalities of commerce upon which all business must depend shall be supported and protected in their effort to establish and maintain an adequate and efficient system of transportation."

Reaches Its "Test Period."

"The government policy of the future, no doubt, will depend upon the success of the experiment now made."

The act itself is about to enter upon its "test period" if under the system which it establishes, the credit of the carriers is made sufficient to enable them to perform their public duties, the legislation will by universal concession, be a success. If, on the other hand, such credit is not established, the legislation will be a failure.

"In addition to the act, the interstate commerce commission, the several state commissions, the labor unions and the carriers themselves are all on trial."

"The interstate commerce commission is on trial because the powers conferred upon that body by this bill are so enormous and so far-reaching that it will become largely responsible for the success or failure of the system of regulation."

"The state commissions are on trial because if they hold back and refuse to co-operate with the interstate commerce commission in establishing a harmonious system of rates to apply to both state and interstate commerce of the same carrier they will interfere with the success of the system."

"The labor unions are on trial because the government itself has created an official agency for the fair and equitable adjustment of all grievances and of all controversy as to wages and living conditions, and if, in defiance of conclusion thus officially reached, the labor organization unjustly and contrary to public opinion, interrupt the orderly and continuous movement of interstate commerce, upon which the welfare of the whole public depends, they cannot expect to be sustained by the people, to whose will, at last, all must bow."

"The carriers are on trial because an effort has been made to extend to them help of a substantial character in the performance of their public duties and the public opinion will hold them to a strict accountability for the ability and efficiency with which the duties are performed."

DANIEL ROPER ENDS LONG FEDERAL CAREER

Commissioner of Internal Revenue Announces His Intention of Returning to Private Life

Washington, Feb. 27.—Daniel C. Roper, commissioner of internal revenue, has informed government officials of his intention to resign shortly. Although his formal resignation had not been received tonight at the White House, the matter of his successor is understood to be under consideration.

Second, except the fact that he plans to return to private life, no information as to the future plans of Mr. Roper was available here tonight as the commissioner was absent from the city, the resignation, however, it was ascertained will not become effective for several weeks. Mr. Roper having consented to remain at the head of the revenue bureau until after income tax returns for the passed year have been filed and the collection of such taxes, the first installment of which is due March 15, is well under way.

In returning to private life, Mr. Roper will wind up a long public career as administrator of the greatest tax collecting agency ever organized, which last year gathered approximately $8,000,000,000 in government revenues. He became commissioner of revenue in 1917, just as the war emergency bill made abnormal increases in all federal taxes.

In administering this somewhat ungrateful task, Mr. Roper followed a somewhat original policy as exemplified by his statement that a man ought to be proud to pay taxes.

Mr. Roper's bureau was given the task of enforcing nationwide prohibition by the Volstead enforcement act and he utilized the personnel and machinery formerly devoted to the collection of excise taxes to establish a prohibition enforcement section with branches in every state. Here again he sought public aid in his work, asking that law abiding citizens generally assist in making the dry law effective.

Mr. Roper is a native of South Carolina where he served in the state legislature before coming to Washington. He was appointed first assistant postmaster general in 1915, resigning to become chairman of the organization bureau of President Wilson's campaign for re-election.

LEADERS CLAIM GAINS IN FAVOR OF ARTICLE X

Administration Senators, However, Claim Ratification Will Fail by Large Margin

Washington, Feb. 27.—The senate talked without acting today in its consideration of the peace treaty.

Only for a brief period was there any discussion of the pending reservation which deals with decision of domestic questions under the league. Adoption of the reservation in its original form was advocated by Senator Smith, Democrat, Georgia, who argued that the substitute presented yesterday by Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, the administration leader, would amount an amendment of the treaty.

While the debate was in progress the leaders on both sides made separate canvasses of the attitude of Democratic senators toward acceptance of the Article X reservation in the form it went through in November with the result that both claimed to be gaining strength. Among the Republicans it was declared that only a few more Democratic votes would be needed to secure ratification but the administration senators asserted ratification would fail by a wide margin unless the Republican Article X reservation was modified.

The Democratic leaders also are understood to have felt out sentiment among the irreconcilables with a view to the probable political consequences of ratification on the basis of the Republican reservations again were blocked by Democratic votes. Such a result it generally is conceded, would throw the whole question into the campaign and some Democratic senators are said to be anxious to learn how far the irreconcilable Republicans would go in their opposition should the Republican national convention declare for ratification with reservations.

PLAN TO MUSTER FARM HELP

Units of City Industrial Workers Will Be Organized in "OG" Season.

New York, Feb. 27.—Reorganization of the American land service to foster a "forward to the farm" movement for city seasonal workers during the period when farm labor is urgently needed was announced here today. The organization sponsored by private interests will be national in scope, but first will concentrate its efforts in New York, New Jersey and Connecticut.

Industrial workers from seasonal industries in the city will be formed into units during their "slack" periods, housed in large houses or camps centrally located in farming districts, transported to and from work in motor trucks and have access to "attractively equipped" social features to be arranged to combat "homesickness and discontent." It was said, a dry's work will be limited to eight hours except in emergencies.

BRODERICK ROBBERS GUILTY

Principals in Hotel Kinkadee Robbery New York, Crime to Be Sentenced Today.

New York, Feb. 27.—Rodriguez and Adriano Alvarez Barria, who were captured after a spectacular night break on the face of the hotel Kinkadee last December, after attacking Mrs. and Mrs. H. A. Broderick of Dallas, Texas, in their rooms and robbing them of $20,000 worth of jewelry and cash, today pleaded guilty to first degree burglary. They will be sentenced next Wednesday.

Mr. Broderick was hit on the head with a hammer and Mrs. Broderick was bound and gagged during the robbery. A Broadway crowd watched the attempted escape and a policeman in the street shot at the fugitives as they scaled the side of the building.

Interpol, N. J., Feb. 27.—On the ground that her Chinese husband deserted her when she refused to sanction the sale of her first born for $100, Mrs. Anna Lee Chow of Madison avenue, Patterson, an American woman, was yesterday granted a decree of divorce by Special Master in Chancery Robert Hoppel. Mrs. Lee Chow testified that her husband, who conducted a laundry, recently informed her that it was the custom in China "to feed the first born" and that he had found a buyer. When she refused to allow the sale, he threatened to leave her and she fled.

"GUNMEN" WERE USED TO CHEAT SOCIALISTS

"Exposure" of New York City Election Frauds Features Closing Defense in Trial of Suspended Socialist Assemblymen

CLAESSENS EXPLAINS STATEMENTS

"It Is Absolutely Impossible To Understand Statements I Made, Unless You Know Conditions That Provoked Them," He Says

Albany, Feb. 27.—"Exposure" of election frauds in New York city last fall when "gunmen" hired by republicans and democrats were pictured as touring from polling place to polling place cheating socialists of their votes, featured the closing tonight of the defense in the trial before the assembly judiciary committee of the five suspended socialist assemblymen charged with disloyalty. This testimony was given by Assemblyman August Claessens, the third defendant to take the stand in explanation of conditions which he said provoked in him such emotion that he was guilty of admitted "overstatements" in a speech which the prosecution in grilling Claessens examination, sought to show breathed emotion.

Following this cross examination James O'Neill, associate editor of the New York Call, was sworn to identify a report by him concerning the third (Moscow) international alleged to have been submitted at the socialist convention last year. The party later pledged support to this international which is claimed by committee counsel to call for world wide revolution.

Then, after the session had extended into the evening, adjournment was taken until next Wednesday. Working two on a side, prosecution and defense, are expected to complete their summing up by the following Friday and to submit brief within five days. The committee probably will take a week in replying its report for submission to the lower house.

Admits Socialists Are Pacifists

Testifying concerning his record in Albany, Claessens said that while a lawmaker he had spent his evenings in nearby cities "arousing" workers to the need of a Socialist regime.

Admitting that Socialists were pacifists, the witness stated that, unless compelled by the constitution, he would not vote for military appropriations while "the militia can be used against the people of this country in industrial disputes or used for imperialistic purposes."

He added, however, he would vote for such appropriation "if we need defense after the social revolution." He was asked if this "revolution" could not be brought about more easily without an army or a navy.

Both Claessens and Assemblyman Charles Solomon, who preceded him, were questioned by both sides about speeches which the pair had made in New York at a meeting celebrating the second anniversary of the Russian Soviet republic. The defense sought to show references to the "revolution" were not intended to convey a meaning of violence, while the prosecution tried to show the reverse was true. The prosecution pressed a statement that "revolution, just like a locomotive, is not dangerous at all, but a very useful thing except to a jackass that will stand on the track."

Gunsmen Jostled Watchers at Polls. Confronted with his speech, Claessens asserted "It is absolutely impossible to understand the extravagant statements that I made there unless you know the conditions that provoked them." Asserting that he had "the dishonor to represent one of the most corrupt political districts in the United States," he described conditions he had observed in a dozen election districts. He said: "Some eight or ten typical gunmen" had pushed Socialist watchers away from the table in one polling place and then a member of the board had asked him if he would be content with 270 votes. Claessens added this was all he got there. The "gunmen" traveled by automobiles to other places and the vote was held up so that they could arrive.

"Among other statements, the witness said in his speech that 'some persons felt after election like saying 'to hell with the whole matter of voting and with the whole form of government.' He had added that if the government rests on thievery and fraud then you might as well refer to this nation as the United States of thieves."

The prosecution inquired if he did not know there is nothing that tends more to stimulate revolution than a belief of the people generally that you cannot rely upon an election being held fairly, and that his charges of fraud with another that redress could not be obtained from "the corrupt judges" tended to inflame the people to rebellion. Committee members pointed out that Algernon Lee, Socialist aldermanic candidate, was now obtaining a recount in New York.

STATE IS PARALYZED BY SECOND BLIZZARD

Central and Northern New York Are Snowbound as Result of 24-Hour Storm

Syracuse, Feb. 27.—Central and Northern New York is again snowbound tonight as the result of a blizzard which raged continuously for the last 24 hours. Steam and electric railroads which only succeeded in moving traffic a few days ago, after being tied up for about a week, were again paralyzed. Country roads were rendered impassable and serious hardships were suffered in many cases through the inability of grocers and milk men to make deliveries.

The interurban lines operating near the city, the Syracuse and Suburban, the Auburn and Syracuse and the Auburn and Northern were completely tied up by the storm. Passenger and freight traffic on the main lines of the steam railroads were running many hours behind schedules, while the branch roads are almost completely blocked. The Auburn branch and the road to Oswego and Watertown on the New York Central lines are badly blocked and the Chicago branch on the West Shore was completely tied up. These blockades necessitated the annulling of several milk trains.

Industrial plants in cities and towns throughout the storm area suffered by delays in freight and coal shipments.

O. H. S. GIRLS WIN AT SIDNEY

Defeat Sidney High School Team by Score of 17 to 11 in Fast and Exciting Game.

In a fast game at Sidney last night, the Oneonta High school girls' basketball team defeated the girls' team of the Sidney High school by the score of 17 to 11. The game was one of the best victories the local girls have scored in some time, for they had to put up a hard fight to carry off the honors from the Sidney team. Although handicapped by the small court, the Oneonta quintet made an excellent showing and successfully put down all Sidney opposition.

Rider, Oneonta's star forward, was in her usual fine form and carried off the honors by getting 11 of the 17 points for her team. Stoutenburg starred for Sidney, with Manwaring a close second.

TRADING IRREGULAR ON STOCK EXCHANGE

Rails Again Are Sustaining Features of Strength Through Accumulative Buying

New York, Feb. 27. — Trading on the stock exchange today was marked by extreme irregularity, strength prevailing at the outset with pronounced weakness at midday and a vigorous rally in the final dealings.

Independent steels were under constant pressure, as were also motors, oil and equipments. Typical of the movement was the wide swing of General Motors, which more than cancelled its early gains of 10 points, only to come forward again at the end.

Rails were again the sustaining features of strength on further extensive accumulations of low priced shares. Rock Island led the movement at a gain of almost five points and issues of other secondary roads gained one to three points.

Representative or dividend paying rails lagged for the most part, but gathered strength when Pacifics and coalers began to rise. Equipments also threw off their heaviness, sharing with the more speculative issues of that division. Sales amounted to 1,050,000 shares.

There was little in money market or foreign exchange to offer especial encouragement. Call loans renewed at 10 per cent, advancing to 13 per cent. Just before the close, active biddings for time funds was without results. Exchange on London was uncertain most of the time, but improved later.

Further heavy trading in Liberty and Victory issues at lower prices featured the active bond market, but rails and industrials rallied with the stock market. Sales, par value, aggregated $18,850,000.

Old U. S. bonds were unaltered on call.

THE BOY AND THE MAN.

The Father and Son banquet which
of late years has been a feature at the Oneonta Y. M. C. A.—one of which in fact, and one the best held last evening—have an importance and significance which is perhaps now coming more and more to be realized. It is not so very much that they are pleasant gatherings of individuals of soundy ages. It is not that the banquet itself is as to stands of fine quality, or even that the speeches are timely and interesting. All of these things are true, and yet save for one thing in connection with them they would be lacking
their most essential quality.

The Father and Son.

In the infancy of a child, there is no doubt that there always is, as text
in the case of a father of the proper sort, a deep interest in what the little one does. The first tooth and the first word and the first step are things remembered and commented upon, and the earlier sayings of the boy, which to the fond father seems quite wonderful, and doubtless the day when the lad takes his book and pad under arm
and starts on his first venture
in the world when he goes to school. What the events of that day were, he is always to remember; and yet perhaps in most instances it marks the beginning of a certain spiritual divergence in the pathways of father and son. No longer are they to be so closely in touch.
The lad finds new friends and a wider acquaintance, and it may be insensibly but none the less certain that as the boy discovers other interests and is less dependent on the associations of home, the intimate comradeship of the happy early days ceases in a degree to exist.

Natural If Not Fortunate.

This is perhaps a perfectly natural thing, and not entirely different from the course of events in all forms of animal life. The birds when their young are grown push the fledglings
from the nest, but even these keep afterwards a keen eye on the young birds, accompanying them on their first flights, warning them
of dangers from predators, foes, and every form of evil to bird life that may be lurking anywhere; and long after there is apparent need of it,
so the young birds appear to think,
keep watch even when the time approaches for the autumn flight. So,
parents of the right sort strive to keep watch over their children, even after the time comes when the latter believe that it is time that they should go alone, but not infrequently in the stress of business and material interests it happens that this kindly watch is not so close as it should be, and in particular that there is a lack of the close association, and perhaps of that intimacy of feeling which as the years go by should make personal relation
one of intimate fellowship.

The Father-and-Son Movement.

It is at just this point in the lives of both that this recent development in the work of the Y. M. C. A. has a vital importance, since it strives to bring the two generations together in a way which consciously or not shall enforce the actual community of interest which they have or which should be theirs. It impresses the fact on the younger ones that their parents are after all interested in the things which interest them, and on the parents that the younger generation is passing from the childhood stage and has interests and aspirations and even social fellowship which should be shared.
They speak together as father and son, as always it is to be hoped they will, but also as man to man with comprehension that is in the years to come one is not uniformly to direct and the other to follow, at least they are to plan together, reason together and follow along life's pathway with a very perfect comprehension. The Father-and-Son movement is a step in that direction, and it is as a means to the end above referred to, that it should have uniform encouragement and support.

As The Years Go By.

Perhaps the finest thing in connection with a movement like that today referred to is the fuller understanding, the deeper sympathy and withal the tender feeling of compassion which as the years go by for the child, it grows to middle life for the parent, and also for others of perhaps less intimate relationship or none at all whose days are in the sere and yellow leaf. In part the movement is for the parent, in that it is sometimes at least brings to him recollection of a possibly neglected duty, in large measure it is for the boy, and helps him most if he realizes that the parent is not merely one who provides shelter and food and spending money, but one who for all his years has still much of the boy
in him, and always even to the end of his days will for this, and for the memory of what in earlier life he has been, deserves respect and consideration, and a looking after his material
welfare if fortune has in any way dealt with him unkindly. It is not in fact important that either should be poor or either rich, or one physically efficient and the other helpless.
The vital thing is that the spirit of loving comprehension and sympathy

COMMENTS OF THE PRESS

An American in England.

Seldom is a maiden speech, whether in common or congress, read with divulger interest on both sides of the Atlantic than Lady Astor's against relaxing British war restrictions on drink. Every line of it reached the mark. If she sticks to her announced policy, and is always "all for telling the truth, no matter how disagreeable it is," the new M. P. will make many interesting speeches, and most of them, it is safe to say, will be worth while. —[Christian Science Monitor.]

The Discredited Primary.

At a recent hearing before one of our legislative committees the direct primary was assailed by every one of those who appeared and spoke upon the measure under consideration. Nobody came to say a word in its defense. This seems to indicate that popular enthusiasm for the primary has waned somewhat in the course of the last decade.

The old state convention, as a means of nominating candidates and selecting delegates, had its weaknesses, as everyone will admit. At its best, however, it was capable of high-grade work. The primary, as is shown by the ebbing enthusiasm of its friends,
has also disclosed serious defects, and its advantages are not at all compensatory with the time and money
that we have to spend on it. —[Boston
Herald.]

Industrial Unrest.

A railway strike in Southern France,
a general strike at Naples, and the setting up of a Soviet in another Italian city suggest that for the moment the center of industrial unrest has moved toward the Mediterranean. —
[Springfield Republican.]

No Cure for Decca.

The good apples in a barrel do not heal the rotten ones, and, by the same token, the law-abiding and country-loving people do not, by contact and example, make good citizens of the "reds." Segregation is the only remedy in either case. —[Louisville Courier-Journal.]

Jerusalem's New Daily.

The first daily newspaper in Jerusalem printed in the English language
has made its appearance under date of Dec. 9, 1919, and the title is Jerusalem News. It is "An American newspaper," its sub-title says; its founder is Elizabeth L. McQueen and its editor and manager is W. D. McCrackan.
It will interest the student of racial influence to observe that the Scotch,
not the Jewish strain, is manifested in this characteristic American pioneer enterprise. —[Springfield Republican.]

How He Helped Win the War.

Suspended Assemblyman Waldman, 28 years old and unmarried, spent the time during the war making chandellers and assisting at the trimming of hats in New York city. —[Albany Ar-

An Authority on Angelology.

Bishop Burch of the Episcopal church says women are angels. There are three reasons for his belief. One is that women are always up in the air, the second is that they are always harping on something, and the third is that they are always in need of clothes. The women who read this need not go up still further in the air, because the Bishop was joking
when he made his comments. —[Ex-

TRUST NOTES FOR RAILWAYS

Leading Systems Get Authority for Big Sums in Equipment Trust.

Albany, Feb. 26:—Applications for authority to issue equipment trust notes amounting to $11,587,443 were made before Public Service Commissioner Frank Irvine Wednesday for the Delaware & Hudson, the Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburgh, and the Erie railroads, the notes to bear interest at 6 per cent and mature in 15 years, to be paid the director general of railroads for new equipment including cars and locomotives purchased by the director general during federal control and turned over to the roads. The Erie asked authority to issue notes not exceeding $4,938,442,
the Delaware & Hudson $4,362,545,
and the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh railroad $2,266,456.

There was no opposition to the applications of the railroads who plan to turn the notes over to the United States before the latter returns control of the railroads to corporate ownership. H. T. Newcomb, attorney, and W. E. Eppler, comptroller, appeared for the Delaware & Hudson; James Mann, attorney, of Rochester, with John F. Dinkey, comptroller, the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh road;
and M. R. Pierce, attorney, with J. G.
Walsh, assistant to the vice-president, and A. Sorenson, auditor, the Erie road. Evidence was given in each application by the accounting officers of the property turned over to the railroads by the director general.
The commission today authorized the New York Central to issue notes not exceeding $14,548,619 in 50 per cent
equipment notes to be delivered at par
to the director general for equipment
purchased by the director general and delivered to the railroad.

Large amounts are due the railroads from the United States Railroad administration at Washington for rentals, materials and supplies, which it is understood will be paid on a final accounting with the railroad corporations.

shall endure. Given this and there will be no such instances as the one which in another column of The Star is reported this morning, and which it may be hoped has few counterparts in the life of the city. Given this and father and son, whether the relation be in birth or marriage, will at least attain to such tolerance and understanding and patience as will make life
pleasant to the end of it, and at the last leave behind a kindly memory.

ONEONTA'S SPORTSMEN MEET

FIRST BANQUET OF FISH, GAME AND GUN CLUB IS A SUCCESS.

Conservation Commission Speaker Falls To Appear But Prominent Local Enthusiasts Aily Fill The Bill.

About one hundred local sportsmen
exchanged "big game" and "fish"
stories at the first annual banquet of the Oneonta Fish, Game and Gun Club, held last night at the Windsor. Although the expected speaker from the State Conservation commission was not present, the event nevertheless was a great success and the local enthusiasts who gave brief talks more than made up for the absence of the commission's representative.

The banquet, which was served at 8 o'clock in the dining hall of the hotel, was complete in every detail
and was a credit to Proprietor Swart and his assistants. Later the tables were cleared, the chairs posed, and a pleasant half hour was enjoyed in singing popular tunes, with music furnished by the Canning brothers, and in conversation.

Frank Sherman, president of the club, then took the floor and called on Secretary Platt for a report of the work of the club for the past year.
During the years 1916-17-18, the organization had each season received and placed 75,000 trout in the streams of this vicinity. Mr. Platt said, and in 1919 had distributed over 100,000 trout and had liberated 35 pairs of pheasants. This was ample evidence of the good work the club was doing,
he added, and it should have a much larger membership in Oneonta. At present, there are 165 members, and Mr. Platt urged that every man influence a friend to become a member
so that by this summer there would be at least 200 members interested in the club. Great interest was manifested last season in trap shooting at the West End field, he said, and the place had been improved and altered so that the sun now will not prove bothersome to the shooters.

After reading an interesting poem
on "fishin'" from the pen of A. E.
Saxton, Mr. Sherman called on W. H.
Lynch of the Normal faculty for a talk, after announcing that the club
had been unable to secure a speaker
from the Conservation commission,
owing to the fact that the schedule
already was crowded. Mr. Lynch, after stating that an organization is of no real use unless it does some good, urged that a game preserve be established at some desirable spot in the vicinity of Oneonta before all the game has been slaughtered, and said that the preserve should not only be established, but should be patrolled to see that no unscrupulous hunters gain access to it. He denounced "playing politics" in the State Conservation commission and advocated laws which put a man on his sporting honor rather than saying "thou shalt not."

George Wohlleben, who fathered
the Game and Gun club in its infancy,
was the next speaker and told of the excellent progress that had been made in the work. He praised Conservation Commissioner Pratt, saying that he was a wealthy man who had given unselfishly of his money for the advancement of the sportsman's
cause and who constantly opposes laws which have a selfish motive behind them.

Dr. P. I. Bugbee, principal of the Normal school, who is also one of the city's best-known and veteran sportsmen, was the closing speaker and in a happy manner gave some of his personal experiences from the time he was a young boy up to the present.
He told of hunting trips to the Adirondacks and gave many amusing stories which kept his hearers in an uproar.

Died Unexpected and Unseen.

There recently died at the county farm an elderly man who had been sent there a few weeks previous from this city. When his son-in-law, residing here, was informed of the death,
he rather curiously said to the commissioner of charities that he was not interested. Later when it appeared that an investigation might be made,
an undertaker was sent after the body with instructions to place it after being prepared for burial, in a receiving vault. This was done.

To date there has been no effort to ascertain the cause of death, nor the manner in which the body was prepared for burial. Not a single friend or free looked upon him as he rested
in his coffin, and not one of his next of kin came to accompany the body to the vault. The man has a daughter residing in this city, two brothers and two sisters residing elsewhere about the state. It is a case it is hoped and believed without a parallel in the history of the city.

WINS SUIT AGAINST SAFFORD

REISS AWARDED $236 BY SU-PREME COURT IN BREACH OF CONTRACT CASE.

Sealed Verdict in Nash-Hamm Case
to be Given This Morning—Court to Remain in Session Today and Part of Next Week.

Cooperstown, Feb. 27.—The jury in the action of Henry F. Reiss against Ralph B. Safford, which was completed in supreme court here this morning, decided in favor of the plaintiff and rendered a verdict of $236, the full amount claimed under the contract.
Mr. Safford, who is station agent at Maryland, purchased an acetylene lighting plant of the plaintiff which according to Mr. Safford proved unsatisfactory and not as represented.
The plaintiff was able to convince the jury that the contract was a valid one and that Mr. Safford was bound by its provisions. Winfred W. Roszel of New York was attorney for the plaintiff and George L. Buckles of Oneonta for the defendant.

The next case for trial is that of Irvin Nash of Westford against Charles Hamm of Maryland, to recover $589
for lumber cut on plaintiff's farm in the town of Westford, where defendant operated a portable saw mill. The dispute is over the amount of lumber
which the trees cut produced. Mr.
Nash and his witnesses claiming that there was 75,000 feet, while Mr. Hamm and his witnesses testified that on account of many of the trees being crooked and decayed, only about 51,000 feet was secured from the trees cut.

The case was given to the jury just before adjournment for the day and the court directed that a sealed verdict be presented at the opening of court tomorrow. E. R. Campbell of Schenectady is attorney for the plaintiff and James P. Friery of the same town represents the defendant. On account of the failure of the electric lights in the court room to function, the unusual situation occurred of the attorneys summing up the case and the judge charging the jury in almost complete darkness.

Court will remain in session tomorrow and will undoubtedly continue for part of next week. The next case for trial is an action for assault originating in Schenectady, with Florence L.
Safford as plaintiff and Lizzie Burdick as defendant. Edwin R. Campbell, attorney for plaintiff; James P. Friery, for defendant.

Bill's Burlesquer in Cooperstown.

Following the oscillatory demonstration last Tuesday night at the Village theatre, wherein the partially bald pate of our genial fellow town-man, Frederico Tamer, became the victim of one of the rams of Bill's Burlesques, one could not help but notice that on the night following the entire pit of the theatre was filled with some of our best known middle-aged men, with their knobs highly polished, living in a happy anticipation of a repetition of the Tanner event. Not only middle-aged men, but such Beau
Brummels as Benny Reisman, Alf
Smith, Harry Cheney and even Bob Warren were within range of the guns. —[Freeman's Journal.]

Augusta Bailey, plaintiffs, against Nels
Christian Jensen and Kirsten Marie Jensen, his wife, Jens C. Rasmussen and Magneild Rasmussen, his wife, Anders Kirkegaard, Daniel C. Fashley and Augusta Bailey, defendants.

To the above named defendants: You are hereby summoned to answer the complaint
in this action, and to serve a copy of your answer on the plaintiff's attorney within twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service, and in case of your failure to appear or answer, judgment will be taken against you by default for the relief demanded in the complaint. Trial to be held in the county of Otsego.

Dated this 15th day of October, 1919.

Franklin C. Keyes,
Attorney for Plaintiff.

Office and Post Office Address,
Laurens, Otsego County, N. Y.

To Nels Christian Jensen, Kirsten Marie Jensen and Magneild Rasmussen: The foregoing summons is served upon you and each of you by publication, pursuant to an order of Hon. Abraham L. Kellogg, Justice of the Supreme Court of the State of New York, dated the 6th day of December, 1919, and filed with the complaint, in the office of the Clerk of Otsego County at Cooperstown, N. Y., on the 6th day of December, 1919.

The object of this action is for the foreclosure of a mortgage on lands in the town of Laurens, Otsego County, N. Y., executed by Nels Christian Jensen and wife to Augusta Bailey and others, dated March 11, 1913, and recorded in the office of the Clerk of the County of Otsego, in Book No. 124 of Mortgages at page 432, on the 12th day of March, 1913.

Dated, Dec. 12, 1919.

SLATE MADE IN BINGHAMTON

Hinman-Barnes Faction Announce
District Delegation to National Convention for Primary Action.

The following announcement appearing in the city edition of the Binghamton Press of last evening will be read with interest in Otsego and Delaware counties, although none of the leaders in Otsego could be reached
last night to ascertain their position:
The complete makeup of the Hinman-Barnes faction ticket for delegates to the Republican national convention in Chicago, and also the selections for committeemen to fill vacancies, were made public today and are as follows:

For delegate to the national convention, LaFayette B. Gleason of Delaware county, secretary of the Republican state committee; Leroy E.
Barnes of Broome county, former mayor of Binghamton.

For alternates, James P. Hill of Chenango county, county judge and surrogate; Florence W. Wardwell of Springfield Center, Otsego county.

Committee on vacancies.
Broome county—George A. Kent of Binghamton, Miss Content S. Nichols of Binghamton, daughter of the late
Rev. Dr. G. Parsons Nichols; Bartlett
N. Hoicomb of Binghamton, county sheriff.

Chenango county—Charles S. Holcomb, of Plymouth; Mrs. Jessie Mc-Nitt of Norwich.

Delaware county—William G. Moore of Walton, Mrs. Belle Ostrander of Andes.

Otsego county—Mrs. Nellie K. Lee of Oneonta, wife of the editor of the Oneonta Star; Marcus C. Hemstreet
of Oneonta, lawyer and banker.

Petitions are being printed and will be put into circulation in the four counties by tomorrow.

Mr. Gleason is the final choice of Delaware county, his candidacy being satisfactory to Judge Andrew J. Mc-Naught, who was first mentioned as the choice. It was said today that this choice probably will be ratified by the various organizations throughout the district, including the organization of Hart faction in this city.

There was an old woman who lived in a shoe,
she had so many children, she didn't know what to do.
But a wonderful idea entered her head.
She fed them all plenty of SNOW FLAKE Bread
And tucked them all healthy and happy in bed.

LOCAL MENTION.

—On Friday afternoon, the Ladies' Aid of the United Presbyterian church met at the home of Mrs. John H. Redfield, 14 Luther street, for the purpose of transacting business. There was an attendance of six people.

—Arrangements are being made to change the method of conducting the dining room at Hotel Oneonta to the cafeteria style, which will, it is understood, become operative early in March, the exact date not being announced as yet. It is stated that many of the large hotels of the country have found this a profitable step and resulting in increased income.

—Dr. Russell will deliver an illustrated lecture Sunday evening at 7:30 in the Sunday school auditorium on Jerusalem, the Holy City. Numerous colored slides will be used. The city will be shown from every point of view—the walls and gateways, churches and mosques, the streets and homes of the people, sacred sites, including Gethsemane and Calvary. Everybody welcome.

Meetings Today

The Boy Scout council will meet this evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Chamber of Commerce rooms. Important business relative to renewal of charter for ensuing year. Every member is urged to attend.

Meeting Postponed

The meeting of the Junior Missionary society of the United Presbyterian church to have been held Saturday, has been postponed.

Meeting Sunday

All members of Anna E. Wilber auxiliary, No. 4 are requested to meet Sunday afternoon at 1:30 at the trolley station to attend the funeral of Lady Judd.

Meeting Monday

All Lady Maccabees are requested to meet at the home of Mrs. A. F. Perry, 18 Tilton avenue, Monday at 12:30, to attend the funeral of our late sister, Miss DeEtte Cummings.

Benefit Concert Tuesday Evening

A concert for the benefit of the West End Baptist church will be given at the Y. M. C. A. hall Tuesday evening, March second at 8 o'clock, under the auspices of the Baraca class of that church. Some of the best local talent has been secured for the event, which promises to be a creditable entertainment. Tickets can be obtained from members of the class. Watch for the program in Monday's Star.

Stereopticon Lecture Sunday Evening.

There will be a stereopticon lecture given at the United Presbyterian church, Dietz street, tomorrow evening. The slides for this lecture are provided by the New World Movement committee of the church. They are exceptionally good and any who attend will be greatly helped and will enjoy the lecture. The service will begin at 7:30.

Trolley Line Is Opened.

The Southern New York railway succeeded in getting its line opened yesterday and in the afternoon cars were running in both directions. Snow plow crews were kept busy during the day keeping the track clear, the wind still being strong and filling up some of the cuts about as soon as they had been cleared out. The company expects to operate on its full schedule today.

Donation for Near East Relief.

One subscription of $2 for the Near East Relief from "A Friend" reached this office yesterday, bringing the total subscription through The Star to $411.57. It is to be regretted that no systematic effort has been made in the county for this fund for nothing should appeal with greater force to the charitably inclined than the needs of these unfortunate people.

KEYNOTE OF FATHER AND SON BANQUET AT Y. M. C. A.

Boy Problem Not So Serious If We Learn What Boy Wants and What He Needs Declares Secretary Hank In Address.

"The boy problem" is not such a difficult problem as many would make it, declared E. Hanke, international secretary of boys work of the Y. M. C. A. in the course of his address on "Finner Than Gold" at the Father and Son banquet at the local Y. last night, at which nearly 100 fathers and sons were seated. "All that is needed," said the speaker, "is that the father should establish an open highway for the boy to the father's heart and ascertain what the boy wants and what the boy needs. Get next to your boy and travel together and the task will not be difficult, although it is a serious one and one of the greatest importance to the world today," said the speaker.

He centered the fundamental ideas about the letters of the word M-o-t-h-e-r. M. stands for mutuality. Each must sacrifice to secure it. It grows and develops in the home and without it success is difficult. O. represents obedience, not the law enforcement idea, but the living in harmony with and respect for the wishes of the parent. It represents happiness, not mere trifling pleasures, but true happiness founded upon sacrifice each for the other. E. is typical of example, to most boys the father's example is the guide and inspiration. All are like the one that wished his hair cut, like father's, all off the top. R. means reverence—for the good, the pure, the right, truth and Christ himself. The speaker closed his admirable address with the poem "Mother O' Mine."

Secretary Lang presided as toastmaster and with him at the speakers' table were Mayor Ceperley, President Bookhout, the speakers of the evening and several directors of the association. The ladies of the auxiliary served an appetizing roast pork dinner with accessories that was at once satisfying and pleasing. Canning's orchestra rendering various selections during the dinner, with various songs fitting to the occasion sung. Jerry Wilson leading.

Other speakers were Roscoe C. Briggs who responded to "Our Lads" and Francis A. Lee, having for his subject "Our Dads." Mr. Briggs secured at once the close attention of the lads and made a strong appeal to the boys that it is possible for them to secure what they earnestly seek. He alluded to the time in ancient history when each family had a coat of arms and how it was bequeathed to the children. Each boy has a similar possession these days as surely the bequest of the parents. Rather than a dirty lace for those under 11 and perhaps a cigarette for those over, the speaker said it should be a clean face, bright eyes, an open countenance and an honest true heart, these are insignia to be coveted for Oneonta boys.

Francis Lee expressed a conviction that the lad should receive the same consideration at the hands of "Dad" that "Dad" expects from the lad. We are he said mindful of their sacrifices for and devotion to us, we are influenced by their examples and we are not unmindful of their advice and counsel. Speaking for the boys of Oneonta I say that we are glad to do our part and all are disposed to play fair, to do as much for them as they do for us. In doing the little things for them we learn how to do things for ourselves when life's responsibilities are upon us. There is little doubt said the young man that we watch our fathers quite as much as they watch us and our actions and our language are quite in keeping with theirs. Boys have a code of morals of their own and fathers should strive to see and understand our standards. No doubt boys welcome counsel and advice from father but the most influential is that inspired from a palship and coming as from one companion to another. There is nothing that makes a boy wonder more than when Dad does things that are not in keeping with his advice and counsel.

The dinner was a success throughout and the whole trend was one calculated to inspire a closer and more intimate relationship between father and son.

Cheer Up.

The snow bank's won't always last, old King Coal will let up in taking his toll and the robins will come back. Radiant is to be brought to Oneonta, with which to relieve pain and disease. I have 12 good reliable men who know enough and are broad minded enough to take advantage of wise state and government laws, in order to safely help the little fellow make his handsome dollar earn as much as the rich man's dollar, with same safety and up to millions of dollars, for homes and farms. Yes, cheer up. Oneonta is progressive and is bound to make other places more jealous than ever before. We do things. I am the safe and sane Oneonta Building and Loan association. advt 11

NEW YORK MADRIGAL SINGERS

Large Audience Duly Filled Last Evening to Attend Fine Performance—Soprano Last Summer's Favorite—Other Members of Company.

The fifth and last of the series of the entertainments announced for the season of 1919-20 in the Normal and High school lecture and musical course was given last evening at the High school auditorium by the New York Madrigal singers, who made sure of being on time by coming Thursday evening to Oneonta, train connections having failed for the town in which that evening they were billed. The entire house was sold out before the middle of the afternoon yesterday, and those who had not taken the precaution to reserve their seats earlier, had to take chances in the evening for seats.

The Madrigal company, which is composed of Edward Parmenter, baritone; A. N. Peters, tenor; Miss Mary Huber, contralto and Miss Mildred Shaw, soprano, with Miss Jean Clark, as accompanist, by no means confined its efforts to the style of composition which the name implies, and in fact few if any of their numbers could be strictly interpreted as madrigals. But if this were the case, the program was, for a mixed audience, or even one composed to a large extent of critical musician, something better in that it was varied in character, running from grave to gay, and with a fine selective judgement in the way of choice. Numbers of exceptional quality were the Paraphrase from Rigoleto, a piano solo by Miss Clark, Mr. Parmenter's baritone solo, "The Mighty Deep," "The Maiden in Grey," sung as a duet with unusual delicacy of expression by Mr. Peters and Miss Huber; "Joy of Morning," a notable soprano solo by Miss Shaw and Miss Huber's alto solo, "The Muleteers," in which perhaps she was at her best. Among the more ambitious numbers were the Prison Scene from Li Trovatore and in conclusion the Infamatus from Rossini's Stabat Mater both of which had the tribute of deserved attention and of well-earned applause.

As a matter of personal interest, it may be stated that Messrs. Parmenter and Peters were both in active service with the American Expeditionary force in France, and that after the close of hostilities they were detached from service and assigned for six months to entertainment work for the soldiers. Miss Clark, the accompanist, is a native of Australia, coming to the United States about eight months ago; and Miss Mildred Shaw, the soprano, was at once pleasantly recalled and heartily greeted as the altogether charming Josephine in last summer's production of "Pinkie" at the Chautauque.

Miss Hinds Entertains Men's Club. Miss E. Louise Hinds of Richfield Springs delightfully entertained a large number of ladies and gentlemen attending the February meeting of the Men's club at the First Presbyterian church last evening. This popular entertainer needed no introduction to her audience, for she frequently has appeared in this city and one never tires of listening to her selections. Miss Hinds was in an especially humorous vein last evening and kept her hearers in an uproar during most of the evening. She also exhibited her ability to good advantage in a more serious mood when she gave one dramatic selection with fine effect.

Following the entertainment, light refreshments were served and a social hour was enjoyed.

Fidelity Class Meets.

On Friday afternoon, the Fidelity class of the Main Street Baptist church met in the church parlors at 2:11. The afternoon was spent in the transaction of business and in sewing. At the close of the afternoon, refreshments were served to 18 people.

TO BUILD STATION HERE.

National Gasoline Stations Company Plans Ornamental Structure.

As soon as working conditions will permit, the National Gasoline Stations company will build an ornamental, fireproof brick and concrete station in this city for the dispensing of gasoline, oils, greases and general auto accessories, the first of a chain stretching across the continent. The building will contain lavatories and rest rooms for the use of the customers. The location of the station and other particulars will be announced later.

The company is being organized for the purpose of building these stations under Ralph S. French, a prominent business man, with headquarters in Los Angeles, Cal. For some time the company has maintained offices in this city in the McCrum block for the sale of stock and for general business purposes. Edwin R. Couse of this city being manager, and John D. Smith district manager. The station will undoubtedly be an ornament to the city and it is hoped that the venture will prosper. Further information may be secured at the offices of the company.

Mooseheart Legion Tea

The women of Mooseheart legion held the usual Friday afternoon tea yesterday, at which about 30 women were in attendance. Music, games and refreshments were the features. After the meeting Mrs. T. E. Blanchard, the chairman of the committee on organization, was taken quite ill and last evening it was stated that she is suffering from the influenza. Her condition was more comfortable late last evening.

NEAR TO THE CENTURY MARK.

Philip Strong, Aged 99 Years, Expires Friday at Home on River Street.

Philip Strong, probably the oldest resident of the city of Oneonta, died at 12 1/2 o'clock Friday afternoon at his home, 101 River street in this city, after an illness of about two weeks, following an accident which he at that time suffered by a fall down a steep flight of stairs into the cellar. The shock which he then suffered had ever since confined him to his bed, and death was unquestionably the result of the shock, coupled with the internal injuries which he then sustained. He was a man of strong personality and firm convictions and was highly respected both in Oneonta and at his former home in Millford.

Mr. Strong was born at Downhampton, Wiltshire, England, in 1827, the son of William and Anne Strong. In 1856, he was married to Frances Wheeler, now deceased, at Abingdon, Gloucestershire, England. He came to this country with his wife in 1859 and located at Millford, where he and his sons became agriculturists. When advanced age caused him to give up his farm, he resided with his sons for several years, but finally came to this city 12 years ago to reside with his son, John Strong, 104 River street, where he remained until the time of his death. Mr. Strong, who was healthy and active for a man of his age, worked at the Strong greenhouse until it was sold, and also farmed a small portion of land near the city during his residence here.

He is survived by one sister, Maria Strong, of Criveland, England, and five children, William Strong of Westford, Charles Strong of Millford, Mrs. William Baker of 35 West Broadway, Richard Strong of West street and John Strong of 104 River street.

Rev. N. S. Bird will probably officiate at the funeral and the body will be placed in the Plains mausoleum for later burial. The time and place of the services will be announced in Monday's issue.

Miss Percy Leaves for Utica.

Miss Catherine Percy, valued stenographer at the Wilber National bank, leaves tomorrow for Utica, where she has accepted a lucrative position as a secretary. About 15 of her fellow-employees at the bank gave her a farewell party at the Oneonta Thursday evening which was greatly enjoyed by all present.

MUSTEROLE—QUICK RELIEF! NO BLISTER!
It Soothes and Relieves Like a Mustard Plaster Without the Burn or Sting
Musterole is a clean, white ointment, made with the oil of mustard. It does all the work of the old-fashioned mustard plaster—does it better and does not blister. You do not have to bother with a cloth. You simply rub it on—and usually the pain is gone! Many doctors and nurses use Musterole and recommend it to their patients. They will gladly tell you what relief it gives from sore throat, bronchitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuritis, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frost-bitten feet, colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia). 20c and 60c jars; hospital size $2.50.

A. E. Fazzelle of the State Normal School faculty left Friday for Cooperstown to officiate as a judge at a prize speaking contest at the Cooperstown High school. The school holds two contests during the year, this being the winter contest. Mr. Fazzelle has officiated as a judge for these occasions for seven years.

Miss Marie Watrous, a graduate of the Oneonta Normal school, now a teacher in the Girls' school in Peking, China, has been spending two weeks at the home of her cousin, Mrs. Jessie Mitchell, 1 Linden avenue, and taking observation work in the Normal, returning to her home in Walton Friday.

Mrs. Watrous returns to China the first of April.

Card of Thanks.
My friends and neighbors, we wish to extend our thanks to you for your kind acts in our late bereavement. We wish especially to thank the ladies who struggled so manfully against the wind, snow and storm that preceded the B. & O. E., the History Room of the Oneonta High school, the Kayser girls and all others who sent us such beautiful floral pieces.

Frank Borden.
Charles E. Borden.
Eda Sigbee Borden.
Raymond L. Borden.

Card of Thanks.
Through the columns of The Star, W. H. Williams wishes to thank the many friends who so generously remembered him with cards and gifts on his birthday, February 21.

Card of Thanks.
I wish to thank the friends and neighbors for their kindness and the B. & O. E. for the beautiful plant sent during my recent illness.

Mrs. Nellie Leonard.

OBITUARY

Mrs. DeEtte Cummings

The death of Mrs. DeEtte Cummings, briefly noted in The Star of yesterday, occurred at a few minutes past midnight that morning at her late home, 16 Cedar street in this city. Her illness was of only about one week's duration and was of pneumonia, following an attack of influenza. The funeral services will be held at 1 o'clock Monday afternoon at the home of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Lewis, 9 Hickory street. Her pastor, Rev. Dr. B. M. Johns, will officiate, and the body will be placed in the Plains mausoleum, for interment later in Glenwood cemetery.

The deceased was born June 28, 1872, at Meridale, her parents being Wallace and Josephine (Torrey) Quackenbush, who in her early life moved to the farm about one mile from Oneonta, which is still the family homestead. She was married May 12, 1892, to William Cummings, and her home has ever since been in this city. She was most capable and efficient in her calling and was a most industrious, worthy and respected woman with a wide circle of friends and acquaintances who will deeply lament her death. In particular will her death be a sad blow to her two children, who will mourn the demise of a loving mother.

Mrs. Cummings, who was a former student of the Oneonta Normal school, was a faithful member of the First Methodist Episcopal church of this city, and of the Lady Maccabees of Oneonta. She was for many years organist of the Oneonta Methodist church, and at an earlier period of the West Davenport church.

The deceased is survived by her mother, Mrs. Josephine Quackenbush, residing on the homestead, and by two children, Miss Hazel P. Cummings and Ercell Cummings, aged 17 and 12 years respectively; also by the sister above named, Mrs. A. C. Lewis of 9 Hickory street. Her father died on April 14, 1918.

FUNERALS

Mrs. Frank Borden.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Frank Borden was held on Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home, 5 Linden avenue, the Rev. B. M. Johns, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, officiating. Special music for the services was contributed by Frank E. Wells and Mrs. Charles Huntington.

Mrs. Cook, pianist, who rendered in a beautiful manner two duets, "Ande With Me" and "Shall We Meet Beyond The River." After the services the body was placed in the Plains mausoleum for later burial. The deceased members of the B. & O. E. were as follows: William Utter, George A. Dyer, Frank Bender, Clyde Goddard, Lewis Heberling and Thomas Jones.

Beautiful floral pieces were presented by the B. & O. E., the History Room of the Oneonta High school and the Kayser girls and many others by friends and neighbors.

The mother of the deceased, Mrs. Ella Thompson of Cherry Valley, and the brother-in-law, C. Z. Borden of Binghamton, attended the services.

Shower for North Franklin Girl.

North Franklin, Feb. 27.—A large party of friends, both old and young, made Miss Elizabeth Schmitt a variety shower on Wednesday evening in honor of her approaching marriage to Alfred Siskler. The evening was pleasantly passed with games and music and later light refreshments were served. At a late hour, the guests departed wishing Miss Schmitt many years of happy wedded life. She is a young woman with many warm friends in and about this village.

New Lisbon Man Dead.

New Lisbon, Feb. 27.—Ralph E. Culburn, aged 64 years, died this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of his daughter, Mrs. George Collins. No arrangements for the funeral have yet been made.

END OF EIGHT YEARS MISERY

Used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Recovered.

Newark, N. J.—"The doctor said I had an organic trouble and treated me for several weeks. At times I could not walk at all and I suffered with my back and limbs so I often had to stay in bed. I suffered off and on for eight years. Finally I heard that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was a good medicine and tried it with splendid effect. I can now do my housework and my washing. I have recommended your Vegetable Compound and your Blood Medicine and three of my friends are taking them to advantage. You can use my name for a testimonial."

—Mrs. THERESA COVENTRY, 75 Burnett St., Newark, N. J.

You are invited to write for free advice. No other medicine has been so successful in relieving women's suffering as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Women may receive free and helpful advice by writing the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. Such letters are received and answered by women only and held in strict confidence.

FIXED FOR MISTREATING CATTLE

Burlington Farmer Named Meacham Had Plenty of Hay in Another Barn.

State Trooper Cunningham recently discovered that a farmer named Meacham, residing in Burlington, had 70 head of cattle and two horses in his barn with only a small amount of hay therein with which to feed them, although in another barn about a mile away had plenty of hay for the animals.

State Trooper Cunningham, acting under the law and on behalf of the Otsego County Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, lodged a complaint against Meacham for the violation of section 135 of the penal code with Justice Charles M. Fish of that town. Mr. Fish accompanied Cunningham to the farm of Meacham and personally investigated the case, the indications being that Meacham had left the cattle with improper amount of hay rather than break open a road to the second barn. The accused pleaded guilty to the charge made and paid a fine of $25 and gave his note for $50 additional to the expenses of opening the road to the other barn so that the hay could be secured for his cattle. State Trooper Cunningham is to be commended for his action in seeing that these cattle were no longer mistreated.

The Most Beautiful Car in America

A Car of Beauty and Real Worth

In undertaking to build a six-cylinder motor that would set a new standard for five-passenger cars, we knew that we were assuming a task which could not be completed in a week, a month or even a year.

As a matter of fact, three years were consumed before we were satisfied that our original purpose had been fully achieved.

The verdict which we ourselves rendered has now been confirmed by the judgment of the motorist. Owners of the five-passenger Paige Glenbrook have found its six-cylinder motor not only exceptional in power and speed, but also a revelation in dependability and economy.

The Glenbrook is distinctly a Paige car in beauty as well as mechanic excellence. It was recognized as such. And, as an investment value, it is acknowledged to be without equal in the light six field.

Excess Six-55; Larchmont Six-55; Glenbrook Six-42. Complete Line of Enclosed Cars.

BASE BALL PHRASES ENRICH LANGUAGE

New Universities Dictionary Defines Terms Used by "Fans"

Baseball, this country's great national pastime, has come to have a language of its own. The newspaper men who follow the fortunes of the various big league teams throughout the season of activity on the diamond would not be able to tell their story if they did not employ many words and expressions whose meaning is clear enough to the more enthusiastic "fans," but often more or less obscure to casual followers of the game.

HAVE COLOR IN CHEEKS Be Better Looking—Take Olive Tablets

To have a clear, pink skin, bright eyes, no pimples, a feeling of buoyancy like childhood days, you must keep your body free from poisonous wastes. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets (a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil) act on the liver and bowels like a colonizer—yet have no dangerous after effect. Take one nightly and note results. They start the bile and overcome constipation. That's why millions of boxes are sold annually, 10c and 25c.

The New Universities Dictionary being offered to the readers of this paper contains a supplementary dictionary, giving an exhaustive list of such terms, and defines them so fully and clearly that anyone, after a little study, would be able to read understandingly the most difficult of the sporting editor's passages.

The study of this list will be found not only entertaining but instructive, as many of the words treated therein have been borrowed by writers in the general field of literature seeking new and effective means of expression, and their use outside of the baseball column in the newspaper has come to be regarded as both proper and in good taste.

The expression "hugging the base," for instance, in baseball parlance, means that a runner is keeping close to a base, fearing a surprise play; it also aptly conveys the idea of a cautious attitude in any one of a number of situations that can easily be imagined. Students of language will find the dictionary of baseball incorporated in the New Universities dictionary of vital interest.

WILL DEED HOLD ORCHARD LOT?

PERPLEXING PROBLEM INVOLVED IN CASE OF JUDD VS. ALEXANDER.

Plaintiff Claims That Agreement for Transfer Did Not Embrace That Parcel, But Deed Evidently Includes It—Interesting Case from Franklin.

At the hearing commenced yesterday before Judge Kellogg at chambers here, of the case of Charles Judd against W. C. Alexander, both of Franklin, it was disclosed that the contest is one for the possession of four or five acres of land, which both litigants claim. Five witnesses, Charles Judd, the plaintiff, Milton Wood, Neal Taylor, Leroy Evans and Arthur Seybolt, were sworn by the plaintiff. Mr. Judd is a man past 75 years of age, whose appearance on the stand indicates that his memory is failing and his mind not perfectly clear at all times.

Briefly summarized, the plaintiff's evidence as given yesterday discloses that Judd and Alexander both bargained for portions of a farm being sold, and that they met and went over the parcel which Alexander was to have, approximately 20 acres. According to plaintiff's witnesses, this parcel did not include the part in dispute, the measurements, according to their version, excluding that part upon which is an orchard. After the litigants had gone over the land and set stakes, they went to Attorney Mackey's office and drew up a deed, which Judd signed, the description of the property therein giving being so worded that it includes the orchard piece in question. Judd, however, insisting that this was not to be included according to the verbal agreement prior to the making of the deed, Alexander since securing the deed has taken possession of the contested parcel, but not without a protest from Judd.

It will be seen that some knotty problems of law and fact are involved and that Judd faces some difficulties in efforts to secure a revision of the deed and the recovery of possession. He is represented by Seybolt & Seybolt of this city, with E. A. Mackey, who drew the deed, appearing as a witness for him and apparently giving his counsel to that side. L. F. Raymond represents Alexander and associated with him is Charles R. O'Connor. Every point of practice and pleading is being raised and the case is evidently to be contested vigorously.

Most of the witnesses reside in the immediate vicinity and they were compelled to drive here to attend court. Nearly all of them remained in the city last night and the hearing will be continued this morning, another case being scheduled for this afternoon. It is believed that the evidence cannot be finished this forenoon and that an adjourned date will be necessary.

OPEN LETTER TO THE PUBLIC

of Oneonta and Vicinity

In the past years it has always been the rule of all amusement places to curtail the quality of their entertainments during the period of Lent, but we wish to go on record right here and now as not believing in any such method, as you may have noticed this week, and we wish to call your attention to just a few of the big and better quality productions you will see for the next four weeks.

On Mon. and Tues., March 1 and 2

"ZANE GREY'S"

most successful story

"DESERT GOLD"

This book has been read by millions, and as Zane Grey gave this picture his personal supervision, we may expect a wonderful production. Read what he says of this feature de luxe:

"The producer has put the spirit, the action and the truth of 'Desert Gold' upon the screen. My ideas, my wishes—even my hopes—have been fulfilled."

BOOK ON SALE AT THE CORNER BOOKSTORE

On Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, March 3, 4 and 5

We take great pleasure in presenting

"MARY PICKFORD"

in positively her greatest screen triumph

"POLLYANNA"

From Eleanor H. Porter's Novel. "Pollyanna." Published by the Page Company. Screen adaptation by Francis Marion. Photographed by Charles Rosher. Directed by Paul Powell.

People who have seen MARY PICKFORD in "Pollyanna" have cried and laughed over her experiences. It is a wonderful story that all members of families will want to see. And they will never forget it.

Are you blue? Do you feel as though you were forgotten or overlooked in the distribution of life's good things? Then you want to see MARY PICKFORD in "Pollyanna," whose charm is not one of face or dress alone, but principally of personality. She is a sunbeam looking out from "freckled face and dress of red gingham." Her story is certainly a sunshine-maker.

—IN—

"The Lone Wolf's Daughter"

by Louis Joseph Vance

Combining the world-known characters of "The Lone Wolf" and "False Faces."

A hauntingly beautiful girl.

The world's craftiest criminal!

The daring Lone Wolf himself!

A panorama of newest fashions. Gowns that will set the fashions for millions of well-dressed women.

On Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, March 10, 11, and 12

Marshall Neilan will present his second big production

"The River's End"

by James Oliver Curwood

A wonderful, beautiful and thrilling story of the Canadian wilds.

It created a sensation both in the Saturday Evening Post, and at a private showing in the Ball Room of the Hotel Biltmore, N. Y.

You remember Mr. Curwood's other production, "Back to God's Country." You will like this just as much.

On Mon., Tues., and Wed., March 15, 16, 17, we offer

ANITA STEWART in "OLD KENTUCKY"

A strict adaptation of one of the most famous plays that has graced the American stage in 25 years. Filled with thrills, tears and laughter

In this same month we will present that $1,000,000 production, "SALOME," also "Farnum" in "LES MISERABLES," and "Norma Talmadge" in "A DAUGHTER OF TWO WORLDS"

In closing we ask you in fairness to all concerned, does this not prove that we are trying in every way to present only the very highest type possible in the line of screen entertainment?

Yours for better amusements,
